Re. Strategic Awareness, Needed Information, Options for Success

Dear Mr. President,

This letter is for your wartime situational awareness, so that your words and actions can reflect a more complete understanding of the current conflict, players, implications of the situation, and your options for a successful outcome. As time passes, the path to victory gets steeper, more demanding, and chances for the best results get slimmer. It is therefore urgent to fill the gaps in your current understanding. The fate of America and the rest of the world is in the balance.

This information and the suggestions given, are given to you because you are one of those very rare individuals to become President of the United States out of a desire to help our country. This positive motive on your part, willing to sacrifice yourself to save America from disaster, is the reason you are hated by our corrupt media which serves the interests of those who want centralized world tyranny and destruction of life, the Democratic party that has sold out to evil and insanity, the Republicans that have been controlled by blackmail, bribes, and their own lack of character, awareness and courage, and those Americans who have lost their clear perception and common sense, and don't realize they work for their own destruction.

This puts a heavy responsibility on your shoulders. If you were the average corrupt politician, there would be no purpose in offering you the pieces of understanding that you need. Many have told me you serve the Deep State, and are an agent of the New World Order so many corrupt leaders are openly working to create. Many of your actions have shown this to be false. Your work to end child trafficking, your attempts to gain support for the obviously needed border wall, your rejection of TPP and the fraudulent Paris Climate Accord, your statements about the hoax called "climate change," your statements advocating a withdrawal of U.S. forces from unconstitutional and immoral foreign occupations which drew the unified anger of both corrupt political parties, your courageous stand against government-sponsored killing of unborn children (more than 60 million killed so far in America), your willingness to recognize Islamic terrorism for what it is, your clear statements on the evils of socialism, all these things and much more, positions diametrically opposed to the corrupt media and deep state, make it crystal clear you are not working for our enemies.

The last time we had a President in the United States with similar motives, though lacking the degree of awareness and some key background elements that you possess, was during the administration of John Kennedy. JFK had important gaps in his understanding and beliefs, had leanings toward socialism, many personal issues and areas of weakness, but his motive was to help America and all of humanity. This fact, and some of the actions he was beginning to take because of it, is why he had to die. His purity of motive was his greatness. Your presence as our President is something all Americans, along with freedom-loving citizens of all parts of the world, should value highly. Your qualities of courage and dedication to what you see as right needs to be coupled with a more comprehensive and accurate situational awareness of what is going on around you at this time. You need to understand more fully what those with anti-human, anti-life motives are doing, what they plan for their next moves toward our destruction, bringing a new dark age to our world, and ultimately extermination of life on our planet. This is in fact their goal. Normal people cannot grasp it, cannot imagine what evil really is, and why anyone would wish to destroy all that is beautiful, all the incredible natural life forms on our planet.

Sir, with respect, you need to understand the depth of the swamp you intended to drain. You have been realizing it is deeper than you first estimated, but none of us can afford for you to slowly learn the rest of the story. We don't have the luxury of time for that process. It must happen very fast, or the project to bring in a dark age of enslavement followed by destruction of life will succeed. Even the perpetrators of that will not benefit the way they plan to. It is a path of death, and needs to be reversed right now. You can lead that reversal, but not without accurate knowledge and a workable plan to avert the disaster that is coming if the current trajectory continues. And you need as much support from the people as possible. The problem with that is that too many of us are still largely unconscious, living with programmed false beliefs, about events, and about ourselves as weak and helpless, requiring the state and experts to make our decisions and run our lives.

Sir, most of those around you, consciously or not, are agents of darkness. Those knowingly giving you false information are traitors. Others who serve destruction less consciously are brainwashed (we call it “educated”) into believing false information that they then give to you as if it were valid knowledge.

Your statements recently have indicated your awareness that we are in a war. But you mistakenly think the war is against a virus. This is a potentially fatal misunderstanding. We are in a war against those who would bring in global enslavement, to be followed by extermination of all remaining natural life on our planet. I am hoping that your desire to truly serve your country, and by example, all of humanity, will allow you to consider concepts far outside the box of what we have all been taught to believe. I am sorry your learning curve has to be this steep, but the survival of the country you love, and the survival of people everywhere on Earth depends on it. So here we go, please stay open to what I’m about to say.

The current pandemic is not due to any natural virus, and it is not an accident, but part of a much larger and more complex agenda. The precursor to this virus was developed in a U.S. biological weapons laboratory (a “BSL4” facility), funded by National Institutes of Health (NIH), operating in contravention to the Biological Weapons Anti-Terrorism Act of 1989. Dr. Boyle, who wrote the text of this Act, has identified the University where this bioweapons lab is still operating. At least 12 others in the U.S., according to Dr. Boyle, are engaged in similar illegal activity. The precursor virus, a chimera not found in nature, was sold to China about 5 years ago. Dr. Boyle can explain further. China took the virus to their own biological weapons lab in Wuhan. There it was being further weaponized, probably for use against the U.S., when it was released into the environment.

It would seem normal to assume the release was accidental, but that may not actually be the case. Shortly before the outbreak, the Gates Foundation, Johns Hopkins University and the World Economic Forum sponsored Event 201, where participants took part in an exercise to come up with plans of what to do in the event of a global pandemic caused by a Coronavirus. Numerous other unlikely events surround the beginning of this pandemic, including the various eugenics advocates, like Prince Phillip and others, who have mentioned a viral pandemic would be a great way to reduce human population.

Whether this weapon was released earlier than planned or not, it has proven useful to the Chinese government in many ways, for control of their own population, especially dissidents. In addition, during the period leading up to the recognized beginning of the outbreak, it was intentionally spread to the U.S. and other western countries, recently in the form of contaminated masks and test kits that have become vectors of the disease itself, masquerading as detection and prevention of the spread.

So the essentials to understand about the pandemic are first, that the virus is man-made, not a “chance” mutation from nature. The U.S. government bears part of the responsibility because of the BSL3 and BSL4 labs, that are operating to this day, doing the illegal work of weapons development. The Chinese government is also responsible for the further development of this weapon, and for the release of the weapon, leading to the current world crisis. So it is not a situation of “America good, China bad.” Both governments are deeply corrupt. That is why you have experienced so much resistance and so many of your Beneficial programs continue to be blocked. The swamp that you became president to drain is vastly bigger and deeper than you imagine even now. It is international. It has infiltrated governments, corporations, religious organizations, banks, NGO’s and major media worldwide. In the U.S., it has invaded federal, state and local governments, corporations and government agencies at every level. You are only beginning to understand the magnitude of the monster you have decided to challenge. For the best chance of success against the monster, you should have the support of the American people and our brothers and sisters in all parts of the world.

To get that support, you have to do two things. First, bring yourself up to speed very quickly on the real situation we’re facing. Most of your advisors up to now have been giving you false information. Many of those have great credentials. That does not make them any less likely to lie to you, if their allegiance lies elsewhere. The second thing you must do, after filling in your own gaps in understanding, is to share that information directly with the people of the world. I say directly, because you must not allow the usual malicious media distortion of what you want the people to know. And you must share the information you have and what you learn with the people not once, but frequently, or those who believe the corrupt media will continue to see you as a monster, and your message will not get through.

Most of the American people have been brainwashed as part of a very sophisticated system of corruption and control. This has not been done only by corporate media, admittedly one of the main culprits, but also by a controlled and corrupt “educational” system, programmed entertainment engineered to subliminally instill certain beliefs in an audience, and to insulate people against understanding the truth as their society is poisoned.

The people consciously working for evil have also been programmed too. They believe they can profit by hurting others. This is something that can appear true for a while, as these people gain money and power by damaging their victims, but in the end, they always end up learning by hard experience that they have damaged themselves.

You need to do all you can to reach the millions of people who are being harmed by those working for our demise, but also to reach those within the system, within in the swamp, who may still be able to wake up and change the destructive course they are on. From their positions of power inside the system, they could do great good. They could become powerful allies. They are not evil at their core, just deceived. Your ability to wake them up will be proportional to the awakening you achieve in yourself, starting now.

The swamp is not just in our Congress. It is worldwide. Its top levels are hidden from public view. At those top levels, the motive is not money. It is pain and destruction, causing suffering for its own sake. It is about serving darkness. It is Satanic, by whatever name it may be called. Above the inner circle families that run the systems here, it is not human. It is composed of dark beings the top families worship. They are not imaginary, they are real. Their influence has corrupted human society in all parts of the world. This has been going on since long before the beginning of religions and belief systems known today. It is an intergenerational program.

In essence, what we are witnessing now is actually a ceremonial sacrifice. The principle of sacrifice is that if you kill an innocent being, like an animal, a child, a virgin, a great world teacher, in exactly the right way, then God becomes very pleased with you, and you get great spiritual benefit as a result. In this case, the desired reward for the sacrifice is immortality, and living with the dark god these people worship, forever. The leaders of this cult chose what they saw as the biggest and best sacrifice, they could imagine, to make sure to achieve what they wished for. So what is the sacrificial animal they chose to kill? All humanity, and all life on Earth, including themselves. This is hard for normal people to imagine, but if you understand this master agenda, all the other smaller agendas in progress today can quickly be understood.

Let's look at the current pandemic crisis in this context. Great healers of the past and present agree with Hippocrates, the great Greek physician who lived around 400 BC. He used to be considered as the father of medicine, and our physicians took the Hippocratic Oath, which is now being forgotten. Hippocrates taught, "Do no harm" and "Let your food be your medicine." You would be amazed to learn how many great men and women of the past understood how to use fasting and natural foods, along with sunshine, sleep, exercise, a positive mental and emotional frame of mind to prevent and cure health problems. Now we have been taught that treating diseases with toxic chemicals, either swallowed or injected, which we unfortunately call "medicine," is some kind of advanced science. The opposite is true. The doctors and medical personnel that save people's lives in cases of accident or other trauma, or who do some of the few really necessary surgeries, are doing wonderful, heroic work. But for dealing with health and disease, modern medicine is on a very destructive track. A famous paper by Dr. Gary Null and Dr. Carolyn Dean, exposes how many Americans are killed by this type of medicine every year. It's a great, self-perpetuating business model, generating in the U.S. over $3 trillion in annual revenue, but it's terrible for the American public and other victims of the system all over the world.

Billions of dollars is poured into this system for "research" every year, yet what does this research keep producing? Mostly more support for invasive, dangerous procedures and more toxic chemicals called "medicine," which are injected into the body or taken by mouth. The harmful effects of this kind of treatment, which Hippocrates would not have endorsed, are called “side” effects, to make them sound unimportant or rare. The kind of treatments Hippocrates and other wise natural healers would have supported, inexpensive, powerful and safe, are still available today. They are used by those who know about them. But they are intentionally hidden by our media and the conventional medical system, so that most of the public may never find out that they exist.

The great natural healing teachers of long ago and of today, all of them explain the same basic principles of health. The small details of daily lifestyle determine the strength of our immune system, our susceptibility to infectious disease, how we experience “aging,” whether we fall prey to degenerative disease or stay in good condition all the way until the end of our lives. These same principles can still be used today, and they still work. They don’t have the damaging “side” effects that we are told are a normal part of medicine. That has never been true. We were taught that, in order to fool us into accepting medicines that create more problems than they cure.

The body encounters viruses, bacteria and other microorganisms all the time. Nature is not sterile, nor would we want it to be. There are many times as many microorganisms (we are supposed to call them “germs,” and be afraid of them) in our body than there are human cells. The system normally stays in perfect balance, and the microorganism population sustains us in a healthy state. When we get run down, malnourished, full of toxins from the environment or eating food full of toxic ingredients, getting exposed to various kinds of radiation or long-lasting depressed, angry or fearful mental states, the natural balance in our bodies is disturbed, the microorganisms' function changes, and health can be lost. Natural, safe inexpensive protocols can restore it. Every American, citizens of every country in the world, should be encouraged to learn how that is done. There would be almost no more need for conventional, drug-centered medicine, except in case of accident, and even those would occur less. That is why the industries that profit from our bad health keep blocking the real health information, and why they have killed many brave doctors who learned and exposed the truth.

This information may seem shocking and unbelievable to those of us who can hardly imagine that the medical system could be so evil. Most of the people who work in the industry are great people. They are just “educated” by a system that keeps them unaware of most of the real information about health. But those at the top, who control the industry, who control the government “health” agencies, who control the curricula in the medical schools and the public health programs, they are the ones who are intentionally hiding the truth from the public, including those training for positions in health care, with the best of intentions.

Even understanding all of the above information, and doing the research to confirm it is true, you might think engineered bioweapons, like this special type of Coronavirus weapon we are dealing with now, would not be susceptible to natural treatments and remedies. But we already know this is fortunately not the case. Vitamin C, both intravenous and oral, has been shown very effective against this particular virus. So has the inexpensive mineral supplement Zinc, which has known antiviral properties. Other tools for healing, such as D3, Iodine, nano-silver in certain concentrations, other specific vitamins in therapeutic doses, ozone therapy, hyperthermia, all these things are proven powerful and non-injurious to the patient when used correctly. Nano-silver has even been proven effective against other weaponized, lab-created viruses. Why is this information not generally known? It has been suppressed intentionally by our corrupt “health” industry, and its business partners including national and international health agencies like CDC, WHO and others, corrupt major media outlets, and the lucrative academic and research industries.

As president, you have the ability to cut through this information blackout, and allow medical personnel and hospitals to start curing patients using these and other cheap, harmless, natural health approaches that work and don’t damage the patient. Many of these same tools, combined with lifestyle upgrades, have great preventive value as well, and are far superior to vaccines that generate billions in profits but damage and kill millions of unsuspecting patients and doctors alike, who memorized they are “safe and effective,” the exact opposite of the truth. Many great doctors have given their lives in attempts to let the public know the truth on this subject, but our media and government agencies continue to cover it up at any cost. The superiority for health recovery and disease prevention of natural harmless medicines and everyday lifestyle improvements could be shown conclusively in a short period of time. You could authorize this research Mr. President, but first you have to get rid of those in the research facilities and corrupt health agencies, who have blocked it up to now.

It's important to understand in dealing with this pandemic, safe and effective solutions are available right now, waiting for us to use them as soon as those who want to hide them are out of the way. But it is equally important for you to know that this "lockdown" approach being promoted by international, federal, state and local "health" agencies is one of the worst strategies you could use. As you correctly said in a public press conference, you can destroy a country this way. If you deploy the real health options that work, there is no need for it at all.

Notice that although China's outbreak is not over, they are sending their people back to work. Russia is also not shut down. If the U.S. remains in lockdown, we will likely see a Super Depression that will make the Great Depression of 1929 look mild by comparison, with millions of deaths from starvation and a total breakdown of society. The U.S. will become a third world nation, a police state. The memory of a country based on the principle of individual freedom, with a government established to protect that freedom, could fade into the mists of history. The new dark age could last a long time. Our actions now, and which path you choose to lead us down, will decide which kind of future we experience.

For this reason and others, those advising you to continue the lockdown, now saying it could be needed for many months, are either educated fools, or intentional traitors to America and humanity. Huge damage to the American economy has already been done in the short period of lockdowns we've had so far. You know how serious this is. It's not just stock market numbers, but will have a painful and damaging effect on all aspects of our lives. The idea of ongoing major free money projects, called "stimulus" bills, is suicidal, and beyond ill-advised. When you shut down production and consumer demand by locking people in their homes, being taught to fear each other, the disastrous policy of "social distancing" based on fear of germs, you guarantee an inflationary super depression, that will kill far more people than the seven million who starved in the 1929 depression. At that time, many more Americans were self-sufficient, we had small farms everywhere. Millions of small organic farms should be an essential part of our national security. We have far too few of them now, which makes our country dependent on outside sources of survival as well as removing a basic requirement for health, which is fresh organically grown food.

With this new fear of contact with each other and fear of germs, not only will our country plunge into an unprecedented super depression, but quality of life and the fabric of our society will be ruined. Rapid deployment of health measures that have the right number of "side" effects, which is of course zero, will eliminate any possible need for lockdowns and social distancing. Things could turn around fast if you get this information and act on it immediately. If you don't, America dies, and a new Dark Age of world communist tyranny, followed by disappearance of life, will follow, according to plan.

Your immediate action is therefore required. But that action requires understanding the basics of health and disease, the essential need to preserve a true free market, to maximize the prosperity of our country as an example to the world. You must also learn to differentiate which are truly “great companies,” from those that poison us and poison our natural world, and should have no place in our country or hopefully anywhere else in the world. Making money in a free market economy is great and helps us all, as long as the product or service that is used to make the money does not destroy us in the process.

This is the reason much of what the health industry does in our country should be understood as criminal, so that it can be replaced with a real health industry as soon as possible, by encouraging real health businesses to grow and prosper. They can replace those currently promoting poison and death as “health care.” Other industries need to be required to live up to the same standard.

Agriculture needs to heal the land more every year, producing food and fiber that help to keep us healthy. Free and clean energy technologies, far beyond solar and wind, these have existed for more than a hundred years, but are being violently suppressed. Help the whole world’s quality of life by getting them released. Telecommunications technologies are using radiation frequencies that are extremely harmful and potentially fatal, to humans and other life forms. This is unnecessary. Most of our country has fiber optic lines already installed. They need to completely replace all the existing harmful wireless, from 1G to 5G and more. The existing wireless technologies are extinction weapons, whether for cell phones, wifi, or other “smart” devices. Those at the top of the industries who brought them to us know that. Safe alternatives have been available from the beginning. The “Internet of Things,” driverless cars, total surveillance of people worldwide, these are plans of enslavement that depend on the toxic wireless technology and the AI systems that will control it. Both need to be eliminated right now.

Understanding what is being done to us according to a larger, coordinated plan, must be prevented at all costs by the real rulers of the Deep State, for their extermination agenda against all life to succeed. That is the reason censorship has gotten so bad in all the conventional print, television and social media. You have done practically nothing to stop it. That has to change now.

Without the censorship systems and AI currently in place, people everywhere would know how to safeguard our bodies and immune systems by harmless natural means. We could not be fooled into being terrified of the virus, because we would know what causes natural immunity. We would also know that the whole campaign to cause terror and “social distancing” is a scam, with layers and layers of deception right under the surface. Why are so many hospitals, all over the world, which the media says are overrun with patients, actually near empty, as private reporters have documented? Censorship allows all the levels of deception to go on.

Government in the U.S. has to be brought back within Constitutional limits, in line with the understanding that government exists to protect our freedoms. Most of our government agencies are stealing our freedoms and our property now, instead of protecting them. The banking system, both the private criminal central bank and the local banks lending money they don't have and charging interest on it, is a mechanism of theft and control. People don't understand that so much poverty and suffering is caused by the fake banking system that devalues the money and sinks everyone into debt. So you need to learn, and broadcast the truth directly to the public multiple times every week.

Mr. President, we're at a turning point, with all these connected issues reaching the point of no return, when a new dark age will not be possible to avoid. Media is broadcasting video footage of hospitals in New York and other cities, with lines of desperate people waiting to get in to the hospital for testing and care, but the hospital doesn't have room, equipment or enough staff. Then private reporters go there to show how bad it is, but the hospital and street outside are empty, no lines, no crisis. What is going on? Media has a long history of blatant lying to the public, when it's ordered to justify starting a war, or create a panic. This time it's end society as we know it, to kill the prosperity and better conditions in America you worked so hard to bring in. End the lockdown now, it is meant to destroy us. Even if the virus is 100% deadly, the natural protocols have already been shown to stop it successfully. The lockdowns with the fear of each other, "social distancing," is specifically designed to ruin our lives, reject it all now, before it's too late and America is lost.

It's time to learn and then announce and act on the truth. Tell the people where the virus came from, including the U.S. part of the origin. Tell everyone the natural solutions to this threat like vitamin C, other nutrients, nano silver, ozone, iodine, and all the usual things that protect health with no side effects. Let people know the media has been taken over, and our bodies and minds have been poisoned, but we can still heal. The first step is to tell the truth. Tell them the medical industry, education, entertainment and science are fatally corrupt. Let them know we have all been trained into dependency, imagining we are weak and helpless, fighting each other over stupid nonsense like race or other meaningless differences. We either wake up now and heal this situation, or America dies. Millions look to you to lead. Time for you to do that, learn and tell the full truth before it's too late. Americans, like our brothers and sisters everywhere, are strong enough, stronger than the dark forces behind this latest deadly hoax. We can come back from the edge of this cliff, but we need to do it now.
